Comments from NKSJ Holdings President Published in CEO Study on Sustainability 2013

NKSJ Holdings, Inc. announced that an interview with its President, Mr. Kengo Sakurada, appears in the CEO Study on Sustainability 2013, a survey on sustainability targeting CEOs around the world jointly published by the United Nations Global Compact* (hereinafter, “UN GC”) and Accenture.

1. Overview of the CEO Study on Sustainability 2013

This report summarizes the results of a survey on sustainability jointly conducted by the UN GC and Accenture once every three years targeting the CEOs and representatives of UN GC signatories. This year’s report was compiled based on the results of online surveys and in-depth interviews of 77 CEOs and representatives selected by the UN GC and Accenture from among the 11,000 UN GC signatories around the world.

2. President Sakurada’s Comments

NKSJ Holdings President Sakurada took part in both the online survey and the in-person interview, where he commented about the importance of collaboration between industries to tackle and solve the complex and borderless global issues.

3. About the Future of the NKSJ Group

The NKSJ Group is committed to playing an ongoing and active role in global initiatives that promote sustainability amid growing expectations for industry and business to resolve global issues. By doing so, the NKSJ Group will help resolve social issues as a good corporate citizen and continue to create new value for society.

* the United Nations Global Compact: Advocated by then UN Secretary-General Kofi Annan in July 2000, the UN GC is a partnership initiative between the UN and business that motivates companies to enhance better corporate citizenship by voluntarily addressing the areas of human rights, labor, the environment, and anticorruption. As of August 31, 2013 the UN GC had 11,728 signatories from around the world. Sompo Japan Insurance Inc. and Nipponkoa Insurance Co., Ltd. became UN GC signatories in 2006 and 2010, respectively, and in 2012, NKSJ Holdings became a signatory with the aim of involving the entire NKSJ Group in this initiative.
